

Since 1960, Burns Engineering has been an industry leader in the design and manufacture of temperature sensors and transmitters for the process and OEM industries. During that time, product quality and customer service along with innovative engineering have been top priorities in the Burns Engineering business philosophy. We have perfected the most frequently installed designs and have thousands of different configurations to choose from, ready for quick delivery. Our engineers are committed to your process confidence and will customize an approach to meet your specific measurement challenge. We love to design, create and discover.